

Why should you Say yes! to social justice?

Because engaging in social justice is...

meaningful

Whether engaged in advocacy, educational activities, or providing direct person-to-person care, you will be making the world a better place.

fulfilling

By working with fellow UUs and people from other social service agencies, you are building a better community while gaining an understanding of others' struggles.

spiritual

As an outward expression of UU principles and values, social justice helps to deepen your religious life.

social

By helping with social justice projects and activities you will form lasting friendships with others in the congregation.

flexible

From on-time, event-specific commitments to participating in the year-round work of the Social Justice Committee, there's a way for you to get involved that matches your schedule, talents, and interests.

It can be fun, too!!

There are so many needs to fill in the world and so many issues to tackle, new and creative approaches are welcome. What are your ideas?

ALL GENDERS ARE WHOLE, HOLY, & GOOD

WOMEN HAVE AGENCY OVER THEIR BODIES

Mission Statement:

"We promote and support equality, justice, and compassion in the local community and beyond through education, advocacy and activism."

Check out the wide variety of social justice activities we participate in and support at our UU church!

Change for Change—A monetary collection each Sunday for local social service agencies whose goals align with our values.

Family Promise—The only shelter in our community for homeless families.... because every child deserves a home.

Lafayette Urban Ministry (LUM) —A community-wide organization that tackles basic human needs and uplifts the people of Greater Lafayette.

Westside Food Pantry—A LUM sponsored program serving people facing food insecurity. Located at our church every Friday morning from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m.

LUM Jubilee—A yearly event for low-income families where toys, clothes, a food gift card and homemade cookies make Christmas special.

Lafayette OUTfest—A lively, family-friendly street festival celebrating the lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, and intersex community (LGBTI) and our families, friends, and allies in downtown Lafayette, Indiana.

As well as...

Community Forums, Workshops and Provocative Film Screenings.

Through education, advocacy and activism, UU Church friends and members promote and support equality, justice, and compassion.
